City may join with state for purchasing police cars

Members of the Granite City police committee met with Dean Durham, of Dave Croft Motors, Collinsville, Friday to discuss Croft's bid to supply the city with five police cars.

The police committee earlier last week was directed to discuss bids for the purchase and come back to the city council with a recommendation. The city council had voted at the last regular meeting to not approve a bid from John Novotny Chevrolet after questions surrounding the fairness of the bidding process were raised. (See related story this issue.)

COMMITTEE members opted to talk with the Croft Chrysler firm, since the company had been awarded the Illinois State Police car bid for 1985.

Because of the large contract with the state, Croft Motors is able to offer other departments a chance to purchase vehicles from that bid.

This represents a substantial savings to departments which request the bid cars.

In this case, it appears that five police package cars, Dodge Diplomats, will be available to the city at a cost of $9,967 per car. The price of the vehicles before trade-ins is $10,537.

IT APPEARS that this would represent the lowest bid received by the city on the cars.

The bid also includes a 12-month warranty on everything on the cars except the glass and tires. The warranty goes on to cover most car items up to 25,000 miles. In addition, the warranty covers the powertrain—engine, transmission, power axle, etc.—up to 50,000 miles.

The city will be trading in five vehicles. Four of the cars are 1982 Chevy Impalas and the other trade-in is a 1974 Dodge Coronet.

IF THE CITY awards the contract to Croft, the cars will be delivered in 60 to 90 days.

Alderman Sam Whitmer, a member of the police committee, said the group will not make a recommendation to the council at the next meeting, but will present the information and let council members make a motion.

Revived levee plan seen as flood threat

Dropped by the Army Engineer Corps in 1976, the proposed L-15 levee to protect the Missouri Point area from flooding has been revived.

Illinois communities in and south of the Alton area are voicing concern that the $20 million project would increase the threat of river flooding.

INSTEAD OF SERVING as a "safety-valve" floodplain to accept high water in unusual times, such as the early 1970s, the Missouri area between the confluence of the Mississippi and Missouri rivers would be guarded by a levee.

The high barrier would extend 44 miles from St. Charles down the Missouri to the meeting of the rivers and back up along the Mississippi to Portage des Sioux.

Opponents in 1971-74 said it would increase downstream flooding, destroy scenic beauty, hamper wildlife and utilize taxes to provide an industrial park in an area unsuitable for industry.

A new three-year study of L-15 has been started by the Engineers' Kansas City District at the request of the St. Charles County Court.

UW reaches 50 percent

Despite the fact the fall campaign of the Tri-Cities Area United Way had only reached the 50 percent mark by the third of four report meetings Friday afternoon, General Chairman Eric Robertson is still very optimistic that the campaign will go over the top.

"I'm not disturbed with where we are because of the time frame of this campaign," Robertson said. He pointed to the fact that last year's campaign started two weeks earlier than the 1984 fund drive and that allowed substantial pledges to be included in the third report luncheon's total last year.

THE substantial pledges to which Robertson refers are the Granite City Steel Torch Club and MacDonnell Douglas Corp. pledges. The two employee-fund pledges make up a large part of Group D's $450,000 goal this year. The total 1984 campaign goal is $630,000.

He explained that these and other "in-house" employee solicitations at various plants and businesses are still in progress and these pledge totals will be included in the fourth and final report luncheon scheduled for Friday, Nov. 2.

James Eisenbeis, president of the United Way, also voiced his optimism about the current campaign. "Progress has been very good, so far," he said. "I'm looking forward to the final report meeting."

AFTER THE report meeting,

Robertson predicted, "We're going to get substantial money during the next two weeks, in fact, we're going to get substantial money during the next seven days."

Group reports were given during the meeting by the various group chairmen. Group A, private donors, business and commercial, headed by Joni and Drew Karandeff, reported the highest percentage of pledges to date.

The report for Group B, professions, private non-profit agencies and organizations, headed by Sister Mary Thomas, was given by Dr. Felicia Koch. A total of $35,035 was reported, or 62 percent of the Group B goal of $56,750.

AL HUDZIK, Group C chairman, government employees, schools and service clubs, reported pledges totalling 63 percent or $27,348 of the $43,500 group goal.

Group D, industry, construction and transportation, chaired by J.R. Parmley, reached 42 percent of its goal of $450,000, having solicited $188,863. Group D is responsible for more than 71 percent of the total campaign goal of $630,000. The Torch Clubs and MacDonnell Douglas employee contributions are to be included in this division.

Headquarters to open for school referendum backers

Headquarters for citizens supporting the two Granite City school proposals in the Nov. 6 election will open at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

The mobile home office will be located at the Nameeki Village Shopping Center parking lot and will be near Nameeki Road.

CITIZENS FOR Continued Education will operate the headquarters from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. weekdays and 10 to 6 p.m. Saturdays.

"Vote yes" campaign activities will be directed from the headquarters, which will provide information to citizens and groups.

Speakers have addressed more than 40 organizations and additional talks are planned, along with house-to-house contacts.

THE DRIVE to inform people of the importance of approving the school referendums is putting on a big push in these final days before the election.

In addition to speakers addressing every school's PTA, two public sessions have been called by private groups and organizations to discuss the propositions.

The Granite City Business and Professional Women are sponsoring a public forum at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Lincoln Place Community Center, 822 Niedringhaus Ave., to enable residents of the school district to discuss the issue and ask questions.

THE SCHOOL BOARD has agreed to have a representative available to discuss the referendums and answer questions.

Casey Krakowicki and George Amish also are organizing a public meeting for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the new Madison Annex Post on Kennedy Drive in Madison to discuss the issue.

Mac Johnson, leader of the citizens' committee backing the schools, has agreed to attend and members of the board of education have been invited to assist in the presentation.

"If YOU don't know much about the bond issues or plan to vote no, please come to the meeting to hear all the facts and figures and learn why the vote on these bond issues could be the salvation or the ruin of the school district," Krakowicki noted.

He added, "You may reason that the district has been in debt for several years now and school has gone on as usual. One thing is for sure. If the bond issues are not passed, deep cuts will be made, affecting the education of every public school child in Granite City."

School Board Member Dewey Melton summarized his feelings about the two school referendums Thursday when he told the Granite City Optimist Club. "These are probably the two most important questions in this community in the 35 years I have been here. The school district is deeply in debt and going deeper."

"WE STILL HAVE a tremendous school district here, perhaps the best in the area. Our children consistently score higher than others on tests. It's a valuable asset we have to protect."

Melton noted that the school district is $7.6 million in debt and is paying $800,000 to $900,000 a year in interest. "It is a growing burden and will eventually crush. All we are doing is keeping our doors open at the indulgence of the banking community. When they stop loaning the district money, we close our doors."

"Then the state comes in with a team of experts. They tell you what to cut. We have closed buildings and fired teachers. There's not much left to cut," Melton said.

HE SAID such valuable offerings as the learning centers could be eliminated, in addition to sports, band, vocal music and other extracurricular activities. Learning centers are important, he said, "because it is the tool we use to make our children computer literate. Computers will play an increasingly important role in our children's lives." He also noted that the learning centers are important to the gifted program.

If the state takes over the district, it will put the Granite City public schools on one year probation. "At the end of the year, the state makes the call, 'viable or not.' If not, the only remedy is to dissolve the district. The Madison County Board of School Trustees will send the students wherever they can find to place them," Melton said.

He said elementary and junior high school students likely would remain in the same buildings, with a new school district operating the buildings. "But I don't know where the secondary (high school) students would go," he added.

"WHEN THE STATE takes over, there will be no extra dollars. They won't bail us out."

"The reasonable thing for the community to do is to answer 'yes' both questions (ballot referendums). Three or four weeks ago, I would have said this bond issue will never pass. I am here to say I now believe it will pass on Nov. 6."

"This community is going to make a statement about itself in this election. 'What about Granite City?' Only you and your neighbors can answer that question," Melton concluded.

Rev. Showers dies

The Rev. William L. Showers, 84, of 3233 Rodger Ave., a retired Baptist minister and a World War I veteran, died at 8 p.m. Friday, Oct. 19, 1984, at John Cochran Veterans Hospital, St. Louis.

He was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center upon becoming ill Sept. 22 and was transferred Sept. 30 to the veterans' hospital, where he had been a patient since that time.

REV. SHOWERS resided in Granite City since 1947. He was born April 9, 1900, in Fort Branch, Ind.

Although he officially retired in 1965 after 18 years as the pastor of Second Baptist Church, Rev. Showers did not completely retire from his ministerial duties.

Until recently, he continued to walk around the city, about three or four miles every day, visiting the elderly and the sick. He was unable to drive in later years due to arthritis in his hands, but this condition did not stop his activities.

HE REGULARLY visited six nursing homes, plus a number of shut-ins who live at home, as well as the hospital here and others in Belleville, Maryville and St. Louis.

In World War I, Rev. Showers joined the military service at age 17 and earned the nickname "Sonny" or "the Kid" while serving in France. In an era before radio and field telephones, his job was to carry messages to the front lines from battalion headquarters.

One of his keenest memories that he often recalled, focused on the

Madison studies jr. high football

If enough junior high school students are interested, if a playing schedule can be worked out, and if someone is qualified and available to coach, Madison Middle School may find itself with a football team in the future.

The Madison School Board Thursday appointed a committee of members Don Garrett, Edward Dohal and Edmund Warhol to study the feasibility of introducing a football program to the Madison Middle School.

MADISON SCHOOL Superintendent John Falchiff said during the school board meeting that, even if there are not enough junior high school football teams with which to compete, "it might be nice, even if they just practiced."

Madison Senior High School head football coach Don Smith agrees. "A football program would benefit the

WILLIAM PATTON

Granite City Trust

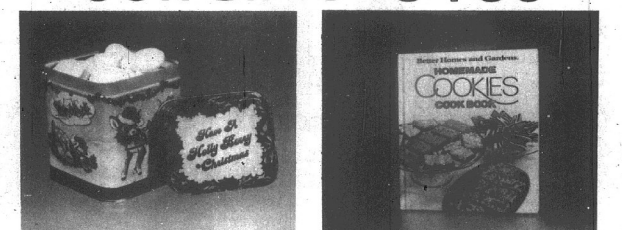

Q: My wife and I are interested in a plan you mentioned a while ago wherein we can buy U.S. Savings Bonds on a tax free basis for our child's education, provided we file a federal tax return in her name at the end of the first year. You said we must indicate the interest income earned by the bonds during the year. How do we determine how much interest income should be reported?

A: That's a very good point which we did not cover in our previous column. In most cases, you can probably obtain the needed information from your bank where the bonds were purchased. Banks have redemption schedules showing the worth of the bonds at year's end. The difference between the purchase price and the year-end worth would be the interest income you should report. If for some reason, this information is not available through your bank, you may request a Form BP 3501 from the Bureau of the Public Debt, Washington, DC 20226. This is a publication of the U.S. Treasury Department which is updated each year.

Brooklyn mayor considers closing taverns earlier

Under pressure from the news media, Brooklyn Mayor Marcellus West is considering abolishing the 24-hour liquor licenses in Brooklyn. Criticizing the Belleville News-Democrat for never printing anything positive about his community, West said bad publicity has prompted him to consider closing Brooklyn taverns at 1 a.m. on weeknights and 2 a.m. on weekends. He said he is accepting opinions and comments on the earlier closing before making up his mind the end of this month. A public hearing on the liquor license proposal was conducted earlier this month.

The News-Democrat printed a series in August detailing Brooklyn's gambling, topless nightclub, three massage parlors, all-night taverns and the village's reputation for violence. State police recently arrested 31 persons when they raided two gambling houses. Former police chief Frank Skinner was involved in an alleged shooting spree last month and awaits trial on two misdemeanor charges. Brooklyn is located along Route 3 between Venice and National Stockyards.

Swim pool bond sale is assured

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Granite City Park Board President George H. Sykes told last week's October prayer breakfast gathering that all of the district's proposed $1,200,000 swimming pool bond issue has ready buyers.

The five Quad-City area banks and Madison County Federal Savings and Loan have agreed to purchase the bonds if the bond issue is approved by voters Nov. 6. Proceeds are to finance a 56x164-foot pool in Wilson Park.

CONSTRUCTION of a new pool has been selected as the best and most cost-effective option, rather than closing or refurbishing the existing pool, it was noted.

The new site is near the ice skating rink, where parking space would be available. Improved dressing rooms would be provided, the pool sunbathing area would be expanded, and it would no longer be necessary for young swimmers to walk a long distance from where they leave their parents' autos, Sykes said. Pool opening and repair costs exceeded revenue by $30,000 in 1975, when piping was replaced, and by $23,000 in 1984, the group was told; water leaks are proving difficult to remedy and have become a major cost.

THE AVERAGE LOCAL home valuation—$18,000 on such total value, less $3,500 Senate Bill 1790 exemption for a $12,500 net assessment—would see a tax rate change of about 11 cents per $100, Sykes said. He estimated the yearly cost to a typical family as $13.75.

Park programs are closely linked to the quality of life in Granite City and to the local community's attractiveness to new residents and businesses, the speaker commented; recreation here has attained a level that many other cities hope to reach.

With a new pool, plans call for increased emphasis on such activities as special nights for families, adults and teenagers, he related.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

Lets assume that you are a spectator at a baseball game sitting in an unsecured seat, and you are hit by a batted ball. Can you recover damages from the batter and the baseball team for your injuries? Here you would probably be barred from recovery because of a doctrine known as assumption of the risk.

For this doctrine to apply, the injured person must have a knowledge of the risk involved and a willing acceptance of this risk and the danger. In Illinois, the defense of assumption of the risk is limited to situations where there is a contractual relationship between the parties or where the parties stand in the position of employer and employee. With regard to the contractual relationship situation, a notable example is where the injured person has paid an admission fee for entry onto amusement or recreational premises. If he is injured in this setting, having full knowledge of the risk involved, then he cannot recover monetary damages.

One of the most notable cases involving a local man dealt with a pit crew member who was struck and injured by a car at a Granite City race track. The crew member was injured when a race car struck him soon after the restart of a race halted by rain. When injured, the crew member was working about his twelfth time at the track. The evidence presented at trial indicated that he had signed a release form the first time he worked, although he had not read it.

The pit crew member was awarded a substantial sum of money by the jury. This award, however, was reversed by the Court of Appeals. The Appellate Court noted that the crewman had placed himself in a position on the track at an area where cars tended to leave the track and enter the infield. There also had been announcements warning people to stay away from the area where the crewman was injured.

The Court found that the crew member's mere participation in the races and his signature on the release indicated an awareness of the dangers and a willing acceptance of them. In this case, the crew member was unable to recover damages because he assumed the risk. It is apparent that this doctrine of assumption of the risk, which prevents the injured party from recovering damages, will be applied by the Courts on a case by case basis.

Lottery booming

Illinois State Lottery sales were up 89 percent in the first quarter of fiscal 1985, compared with the same period last year, in part because of an unprecedented lotto sales volume in August.

Sales reached $301.5 million in the three-month period ending Sept. 30. Lottery profits were up 74 percent to $129.2 million compared to the same period last year.

Prizes paid to winners reached $140 million, up 70 percent over last year's first-quarter figure of $82.6 million.

"The Illinois State Lottery continues to be an important provider of revenues to help support education and other social services programs throughout the state," Gov. James Thompson said.

Just in the first quarter of this year, $48.6 million of the lottery's profits went to support education statewide, while $39.3 million went to health and social services programs.

The remaining $91.3 million was devoted to public protection and justice, natural resources and recreation, transportation and other state programs.

Michael J. Jones, lottery superintendent, said total lottery sales in the week ending with the drawing of Sept. 1, when Michael Wittkowski of Chicago won a record North American lottery prize of $40 million, 20-year annuity, reached more than $44 million.

In the first quarter, lotto became the biggest selling lottery game with sales reaching $142.9 million, up 275 percent over the same period last year.

Sales of the daily game, the former biggest seller, were up 5.7 percent to $87.2 million. Instant game sales rose 20.1 percent to $56.3 million.

Sales of the Pick-4 game, which went to six drawings a week in August from the previous two per week, were up more than 28 percent to $14.8 million.

Jones said sales of the lottery's video games, which began a six-month test Aug. 1, were $300,000 for eight weeks.

In this fiscal year's first three months alone, both lottery sales and profits exceeded the 12-month sales and profits of any year in the lottery's first seven years of operations.

Agents and vendors collected commissions of almost $19 million in that period. Lottery agents earned an average of almost $1,900, compared with $1,500 last year.

On Sept. 30, the lottery had 8,170 agents, compared with 5,861 on the same date a year earlier. Agents receive five percent of their lottery ticket sales, plus a bonus of one percent of any prize worth at least $1,000 won by a ticket they sold.

Operating expenses of the lottery, expressed as a percent of sales, were lower in the first quarter, running less than two percent, compared with last year's $2.5 percent.

"In August, the people who never played the lottery before spent $1 to take a chance on winning a $40 million annuity," Jones said. "The fact that sales of all of our games have increased indicates our new players enjoyed their experiences and have continued to play the lottery."

He said broadening of the base of lottery players is a major objective of lottery officials.

"We want lottery sales to grow by attracting new players, rather than by having existing players buy more tickets."

"The greatest percentage increases in lottery sales have been in Chicago 'collar counties' and Downstate, rather than in Chicago and Cook County, and we have been adding many new agents in those areas."

Suit says pupil was struck at crossing

Seeking in excess of $15,000, the family of Julie Ann Schirmer, now nine years old, this month sued the City of Granite City and Granite City School District Nine, citing the child's injuries while she was crossing Nameoki Road at Victory Drive Sept. 30, 1982.

When she was seven years old, the student waited with several other young children to cross in a school crosswalk regulated by traffic signals and clearly marked as a student crossing, the lawsuit relates.

As she stepped out onto Nameoki Road, she encountered the southbound auto of Sheila M. Turner, it is contended. Along with the city and school system, defendants are the motorist and Betty Mefford, a substitute guard at the crossing.

Thrown violently to the ground by the impact, the girl is said to have suffered contusions, head lacerations, a skull fracture and other injuries causing permanent disability.

The suit alleges that the driver failed to halt in time; that the substitute guard failed to control traffic and did not remain on the west side of Nameoki with the youngsters to prevent their going into the intersection; and that the governments failed to adequately train the substitute guard and failed to provide for reasonable and safe pupil use of the intersection.

Residence burglary basis of 5-yr. term

Bryant Wright, 24, of 133 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, has been sentenced by Judge Philip Rarik to five years in prison for a residential burglary.

The charge was filed April 18 and Wright pleaded guilty June 5, with sentencing occurring several months later at the Madison County Courthouse.

Edwardsville police said they interrupted a burglary by two men at 1302 Troy Road. A neighbor had seen an auto without headlights going through an alley several times and then saw two men get out of the car.

When officers arrived, the pair fled on foot and escaped. A dog from the police canine corps was brought to the scene and, after smelling items dropped by the fleeing men, led police to a parked and unoccupied auto on Lindenwood Avenue.

Officers maintained a watch on the vehicle and, shortly after 11 p.m., saw another car approach. When ordered to stop, the driver of the second car fled in 11 but was stopped by police on Route 159 at Kettle River Drive. Wright, a passenger, was arrested.

Based on questioning of Wright, a second burglary suspect was arrested at 1 a.m. in the area of Longfellow Avenue. He was a Venice man.

GOP to honor Gluck at breakfast here

The Madison County Republican party will honor Jeffrey Gluck, owner and publisher of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, during a dutch breakfast at 7:30 a.m. Thursday at Charlie's Restaurant. Tickets are $10 per person and all funds will be used by the Granite City Republican Committee for use in the Quad-City area, according to Leo Konzen, co-chairman of the breakfast. The other co-chairman is Randall Robertson.

Gluck will receive the Madison County Republican Party's 1984 Media Award during the event.

"It is important that we have a nice turnout to honor this publisher to show him that the Republican Party in the Tri-Cities area is alive and well and will be a viable organization in the future. Your presence will give honor to Jeffrey Gluck, to the significance of the award and to your interest in the Republican Party activities in this county," Konzen said.

Dr. Edward Ragsdale, chairman of the county's GOP, noted that many Republican candidates will be present for the breakfast. "Mr. Gluck was selected (for the award) because his efforts saved the Globe-Democrat from going out of existence," Ragsdale said. He noted that the Globe has endorsed many Republicans in Madison County.

Reservations for the breakfast may be made by calling the Republican headquarters at 876-1349 or Luaders, Robertson & Konzen law office, 876-8500. The breakfast will adjourn by 8:45 a.m.

Win 24-12

Warriors defeat Cahokia for Homecoming win

GRANITE CITY — Homecoming heroes. Granite City High School football fans didn't have to search far or long to find more than a healthy handful of heroes Friday night following the Warriors' 24-12 victory over Cahokia.

For the Warriors and their fans these were moments to be cherished.

There was Eric Graves' touchdown reception which put the Warriors ahead with 1-46 left in the game. And, there was Shane Cole, the Warrior quarterback, the one who launched the TD pass.

But there were also the other people. People who weren't necessarily connected with the game-winning TD pass, but helped the Warriors reach that third and seven situation on Cahokia's 16 yard line.

PEOPLE like Pat Keeling, the 5-foot-10-inch junior halfback who just moments before caught Cole's fourth-and-eight pass to keep the Warrior drive alive. And what about Ryan Weeks, the junior place kicker who could've and wanted to be the one to put the Warriors ahead if the TD pass to Graves been unsuccessful.

Or what about John Konkovich and Dave Tatum who both turned fourth and long situations into first and tens, which also pumped life into the seemingly dying Warrior offense.

And how about the Warrior defense? After the Warriors took the lead, Granite City's defense came up with two big interceptions — one by Graves another by Chris Luffman — to smother whatever chance the Comanches had of coming back. All were Warrior heroes Friday, by anyone's stretch of the word.

HERE'S the scenario. It's late in the third quarter, and the Warriors are holding on to a slim 10-6 lead — a Keeling TD run and a Weeks' 29-yard field goal.

The Comanches take possession. It's first and 10 from their own 25 yard line. Behind the running of Comanche quarterback Pat Hill and Martin Fluker, Cahokia moves the ball 63 yards in 12 plays. Then on a third and 12 situation from Granite City's 12-yard line, Hill connects with Charlie Williams on a little screen pattern for the go-ahead touchdown.

Cahokia's passing attempt at a two-point conversion was thwarted by Warrior defensive back Pat Griffith. Comanches take the lead 12-10.

ATTEN the Comanche touchdown, the Warrior defense dug in.

On fourth and four from Granite City's 43 yard line, Cahokia lined up for a punt.

"Watch the fake to No. 44," shouted Warrior defensive coach Bob Stegemeler.

Stegemeler called it perfectly. Cahokia's center, Don Schablosky, snapped the ball to the up man, Williams. But Tim Moran, one of the Warriors' team captains, stepped up from his linebacker's position and stopped Williams for little gain and the Warriors took possession.

TAKING control at their own 42 yard line, the Warriors mustered their longest possession of the game. In all, the Warrior offense moved the ball 58 yards in 16 plays and consumed seven minutes before Cole hit Graves for the TD pass.

But, backing up again, dissecting the drive was a lesson in determination spurred on by the Warriors desire to come from behind and win their Homecoming game.

First series: Three running plays. It's fourth and one and Konkovich ushers in a play.

"I wasn't really sure of the play. It was actually designed to go 4-1, but I ran a 4-0," Konkovich said. "I ran the wrong hole, but it didn't matter. I knew what yardage we needed and I was going to get it."

KONKOVICH'S efforts garnered him two yards and a Warrior first down. Coach Yates sighed.

Second series: Two running plays, one by Mike Fenoglio and the other a quarterback keeper by Cole. A pass attempt to Graves falls incomplete. Suddenly, once again, it's fourth and nine, another long yardage situation for the Warriors.

The Warriors went to a shotgun formation. Cole pumped once then fired to Keeling who was cutting across the middle. A low ball, Keeling made a diving reception for a first down. The Warrior drive was still alive.

Yates paces and sighs.

"Pat deserves a lot of credit for that one," Yates said after the game. "People will remember Graves' touchdown, but that was a big, big play for us. He made a heckuva catch on a ball that wasn't really thrown that well."

THIRD series: First and 10 at Cahokia's 34 yard line. Two running plays failed. Collectively, they net two yards. On third down, the Warriors go to the air, or at least they attempt to.

Cole fades back to pass. He pumps and the ball slips out of his hand. It's ruled an incomplete forward pass. Now, fourth and eight, the Warriors face their third fourth and long situation of the drive.

An offside penalty on Cahokia moves the Warriors closer, to fourth and three, but on the replay the Warriors give it right back on a motion penalty.

STILL fourth and eight, Granite City goes to its old reliable over the center, Keeling. Cole's pass to Keeling is complete and the junior halfback makes his way down to Cahokia's 15 yard line before tackled, a 17-yard pickup. They've dodged another bullet. Yates strokes his chin, paces and sighs.

Fourth series: First and 10 at the Comanche 15 yard line. Weeks begins lousening up his leg on the sidelines.

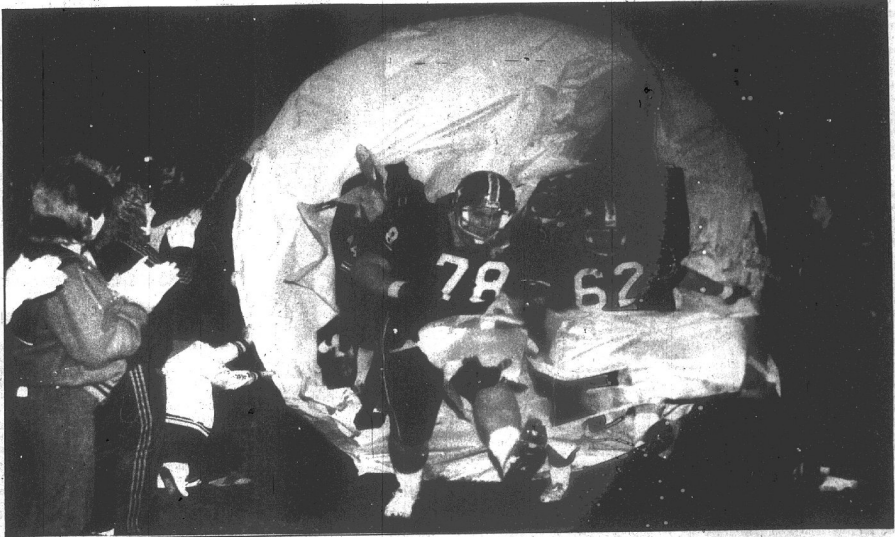

Tatum runs for two yards and Keeling picks up another. Then once again it's third and long, third and seven to be exact.

The Warriors take a time out and Yates trots out on the field. Weeks continues his field goal preparations.

"CAN he do it," a bystander asks Stegemeler referring to Weeks' ability to kick a field goal.

"Yep," Stegemeler said. "He can hit it. If he does we win, if he doesn't we lose."

Oversimplified? perhaps. But Stegemeler calls it as he sees them. When it's all over, the scoreboard tells the story.

CHARGING CAPTAINS. Granite City football team's captains, Chris Luffman (left) and Tim Moran, charge through the pep hoop just prior to Friday night's non-conference football game with Cahokia. The Warriors defeated the Comanches 24-12 for their second win of the season. (Press-Record Photo by Alan L. Gerstenecker)

In Cross Country GCHS girls SWC champions

By CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — The Granite City cross country teams returned to the Southwestern Conference in grand fashion this fall — winning two of the three first-place trophies awarded Friday at the conference meet.

The Granite City varsity girls' and the boys' freshman-sophomore teams, picked up top honors during the meet held at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The Warriors, who were independent last season, re-entered the Southwestern Conference this year.

THE GIRLS collected just 31 points from their top five runners and out-paced defending champion Belleville West, which finished in a distant second with 69 points. In fact, all five Granite City scorers finished in the top 10 overall. A total of 31 girls ran in the meet.

"A lot of schools have one or two good runners, but we're blessed with a team of them," said Granite City coach Dave McClain. "They're a good bunch. It's nice to have them." Granite City's Lara Wiser was edged out for first place by rival Pam Quarenghi of Collinsville. Wiser, who had been leading throughout most of the race, finished in 12:14. Quarenghi finished in 12:13.

"THEY WERE step-for-step for about the last 120 yards," said McClain. "But Pam just outkicked her at the end."

Melody Witt finished fourth for Granite City at 12:45, followed by sixth-place Sheila Noel at 12:59, ninth-place Faye Patton at 13:39 and 10th-place Michelle Shoemaker at 13:44. Also running for the Warriors were Lori Fepe, who finished 13th with a 14:04, and Marianne Finn, who took 16th with a 14:39.

In team finishes, Collinsville finished third with 82 points, Belleville East took fourth with 84 and East St. Louis Senior finished fifth with 99.

IN THE freshman-sophomore meet, Granite City's Derek Drumtra finished first overall with a 17:59. Teammates Mike Charbonnier and Paul Brandt finished third and fourth, respectively, with 18:45 and 18:56 times. Rounding out the Warriors' scoring were ninth-place Steve Shaw at 20:06, 13th place Bill Stone at 20:43 and 14th place Tom Miller at 21:05.

Also running for Granite City were Ed Hoffman, who finished 17th with a 21:20, and Ed Lampett, who finished 19th with a 21:55.

Granite City's top five runners totaled 30 points, followed by East St. Louis Senior with 53 and Belleville West with 78. The top finisher gave McClain some encouragement about the future.

"We're going to have a good team to build around," said McClain. "The sophomores are really well."

IN THE third category — the varsity boys' division — Granite City finished fifth. Belleville West won the meet with 40 points, followed closely by East St. Louis Senior with 51. Altogether with 65 and Belleville East with 68. Granite City had 123 points, while Collinsville collected 166.

Granite City's top finisher, John Varadian, took 18th place out of 40 runners. Varadian finished with a 17:46.

The Warriors will compete in the regional next Saturday at SIUE. The boys' competition gets underway at 10:30, while the girls' action starts at 11:30.

20 Years Ago Remembering a past Homecoming

By JOE THOMPSON

GRANITE CITY — Whatever becomes of yesterday's Homecoming Queen?

For that matter, where does the path of life take the football hero after the last block is thrown and the final yard made?

For Ron Yates, head coach of the Granite City High School football team, and wife Carolyn Randolph Yates, a former Homecoming Queen, you meet, fall in love and live happily.

The two celebrated an anniversary, of sorts, during the sweet glow of the Warriors' Homecoming victory last Friday. For Ron, a 1964 graduate of Granite City High School, the triumph marked his first Homecoming victory in his initial campaign as the Warriors' head football coach.

FOR CAROLYN, a 1965 Granite City High School graduate, the thrill of attending the Homecoming game was more than the thrill of cheering her husband's team to victory. Twenty years ago she rode around the stadium at halftime — in a red Pontiac, she remembers — waving to her friends, and hearing the applause. She was Homecoming Queen.

Was it really that long ago? "Seems like it was only 10 years ago," said Tom Miosky, Miosky, now a member of the Granite City High School Board, rode in the red Pontiac with Carolyn as Homecoming King.

Wearing a red and white corsage her husband pinned on her, Carolyn didn't look much different from that November Homecoming night in 1964.

"IT IS an experience you'll always, always cherish," said Carolyn, who is employed as a special education teacher with the St. Louis Special School District. "I don't care if you live to be 90 years old."

"You just feel so proud," said Carolyn. "You represent the classmates who you dearly love. I don't want to sound corny, but these are people you started out in school with."

While there's no recorded documentation how Homecoming Queens have behaved when learning of their honor, it's not likely many soon forgot Carolyn's response, less of all Dick King, head of the speech department then.

"I CAME out on stage that night with Tom crying," says Carolyn. "I (Continued on Page 9)

Whip Red Bud 12-6 Trojans win in overtime

By JAMES BLASINGAME
of the Press-Record

RED BUD — The Trojans' defense had to put in a little overtime Saturday afternoon, but it paid off as Madison High School's football team stopped Red Bud 12-6.

A steady drizzle and cool temperatures made for numb fingers and an elusive football. The slippery pigskin changed hands 12 times as a result of fumbles. Eight of those turnovers were by the Trojans.

With Madison's offense unable to move the football without losing it, the Trojans' defense got as much exercise running on and off the field as they did when they were shutting down the Musketeer attack.

"OWN DEFENSE is the only thing that kept us in the game," said Trojan coach Don Smith. "We'd run one play and fumble the ball. But our defense really hung in there in those (weather) conditions."

As evidence of the impressive Trojan defense, the entire first quarter, with the exception of the opening kickoff, was played inside Madison's 39 yard line. During the entire game, Trojan defenders never allowed a point.

The Musketeer touchdown came in the second quarter with Madison in possession at its own four yard line. Starting quarterback Nathan Young twisted an ankle and was replaced by halfback Darnell Marshall.

ON SECOND down Marshall, under a heavy rush from the Red Bud defensive line, scrambled back into the endzone and lofted a pass out into the left flats. The ball dropped harmlessly to the soggy turf, but an official ruled the pass a lateral.

Musketeer defensive end Matt Matich recovered the ball in the endzone for the lone Red Bud score. Madison stopped the two-point conversion attempt, but the Trojans trailed 6-0.

In a game with cold, wet conditions and neither team being able to sustain a drive offensively, one or two big plays can determine the game's outcome.

Madison's big play came with 4:52 left in the third quarter.

THE TROJANS forced a Red Bud punt from the Musketeer 44 yard line, and Dan Sachtleben's kick was downed at the Madison one.

With all of the mishandled snaps, fumbles, and slips in the backfield, and the ball being at the one yard line, there was good cause for Trojan concern.

So, instead of the typical, conservative running play up the middle and taking a chance at another fumble, Madison decided to throw the ball.

On first down from the one yard line, Marshall threw to Rouzell "Catch-Me-If-You-Can" Porter who was running across the center of the field. Porter, who was a member of the Trojan state 440 relay team last year, juggled the ball above his head before pulling it in, and then streaked past three Red Bud defenders for a 99-yard touchdown reception.

"EVERY time we handed the ball off, we fumbled," said Smith. "We didn't want to lose it at our one (yard line). They (Red Bud) were playing tight on the line, so we threw to Rouzell."

Young was stopped short of the goal line on the two-point conversion attempt, knotting the Trojan at six apiece.

As the fourth quarter began, Red Bud took possession at the Trojans' 35 yard line.

Musketeer quarterback Tony Schrader fired a pass to Sachtleben on the left sideline for a gain of eight yards, but a personal foul penalty on Madison brought the ball down to the Trojan 12.

ON FIRST down Sachtleben was thrown for a loss back to the 14. An illegal procedure penalty nullified a Red Bud touchdown and pushed the ball out to the 19.

Bill Hughes carried twice for the Musketeers to the Trojan 10, but the Madison defense wasn't budging. The Trojan offense took over at the 10, and moved the ball out to the 24 yard line with some hard running by Young. But the Madison fullback fumbled, and Red Bud recovered at the Trojan 20 yard line.

A personal foul penalty and an off-sides penalty, both against the Trojans, sent the ball to the nine yard line.

IT WAS here, the Madison defense dug in.

Jeff Bridick, Earl Walker, Steve Petrovsky and Darryl McCormick led a charge that yielded a total of only four yards on three consecutive carries by Hughes.

On fourth and one from the five, Hughes picked up the first down, but an aiding-the-runner penalty pushed the ball back to the nine-yard line. The Trojan front line smothered Hughes on the following play allowing Madison to regain possession and run out the game clock.

Then the overtime period. In an overtime session, each team gets four downs to score from the 10-yard line. If one team scores, the other must also score to prolong the overtime.

MADISON won the coin toss and elected to start on offense.

On first down Marshall bootlegged his way around the right end for a touchdown. The two-point conversion attempt failed, which meant that a Red Bud touchdown and extra point would win the game for the Musketeers.

After battling all afternoon, the Trojan defense wasn't about to allow any scoring now.

The Madison front line knocked Sachtleben back for a two-yard loss on Red Bud's first play. On second down Young batted away a pass to a Musketeer receiver in the endzone that appeared to be a certain touchdown.

A tremendous pass rush from the Trojan front line forced two more incomplete passes on third and fourth downs, giving Madison the win.

"It looked kind of dim there for a while," said Smith. "We had our backs against the wall, but our defense really rose to the occasion."

The victory improves the Trojans' record to 3-4 on the season. This Friday, the Trojans will host Freeburg.

Banquet to honor Mendoza

When it comes to soccer in Granite City, there are few names which carry more weight than that of Ruben Mendoza.

Earlier this month, Mendoza was honored for his contributions to soccer by the St. Louis Soccer Club as he was inducted into its prestigious Hall of Fame.

Well, Mendoza has returned home and the honors will follow him.

Scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 27, at 7 p.m., the Mexican Honorary Commission, a local organization which promotes amateur athletics, will honor their own as they host a banquet for Mendoza.

To be held at the MHC Hall located at 1801 Spruce St., the banquet is a tribute to Mendoza for his years of service to soccer and amateur athletics.

Tickets for the banquet, which includes dinner, drinks and entertainment, are $10 each and may be purchased at the MHC Hall or by calling either John Valencia at 787-6920 after 5 p.m. or Bob Galvin at 931-0372.

ON THE HUNT. The four Earney brothers did well "opening day" of the antelope season during a recent trip west near Gillette, Wyo. With temperatures in the 20s, the four men never dreamed opening day would be so successful, despite their nearly a year of planning for the trip. The Earney's, Larry, Tim, Brian and Kelley from left to right, were all born and raised in Granite City, sons of Nancy and the late Howard "Scotty" Earney.

In Soccer Regional Knights end Trojans' season

EDWARDSVILLE — The classic David-Goliath soccer matchup of the Madison High Trojans vs. the Granite City High Warriors — will not be held at 7 p.m. tonight at the Gauntlet in the semi-final match of the Granite City Regional tournament.

The Warriors, who have won six state titles under Coach Gene Baker, will be there, but not the Trojans, who never have had a winning season.

The Trojans were eliminated from state tournament action, losing to Metro-East Lutheran in Edwardsville Saturday, 5-0.

THE VICTORY sends Metro-East, a decided underdog, against the Warriors in tonight's match. The Warriors received a first round bye. The winner advances to the sectional tournament, which gets underway Saturday in Granite City.

For Madison, which saw its season end at 6-9-3, the rain Saturday contributed to Metro-East's rainfall of goals. Metro-East tallied three first quarter goals enroute to its victory.

Mother Nature dealt Madison an unkind hand. "It rained practically the whole game," Trojan coach Gene Briggs said. "The field conditions seemed to put us at a bigger disadvantage than them."

BRIGGS pointed out that the Trojans, who boasted superior speed, would have fared better on a drier field. However, he said he thought Metro-East boasted players who had better ball skills. On the wet field, ball skills won out.

"It made it harder for us to trap a pass, to get a foot on the ball. We weren't really able to do much with the ball," said Briggs.

The Trojans, however, were bolstered by the return in goal of Patrick Glasper in goal. Glasper's netminding drew favorable comments from observers, most notably Granite City High head coach Gene Baker.

"He said he thought Patrick played a good game," said Briggs.

IT WAS an error by Glasper, though, which proved especially critical. With the Trojans trailing 1-0, Glasper was unable to cleanly handle a shot from about 20 yards out. "The goalie and the ball hit the water about the same time," said Briggs.

The ball trickled into the goal. "That was pretty discouraging there," said Briggs.

Briggs pointed out, however, Glasper made several sparkling saves.

Another Trojan who contributed prominently, Briggs said, was Delyod Williams. Williams, who was returned to the forward line, owned one of two of the Trojans' best opportunities of the match.

WILLIAMS unleashed a booming kick at the goal, catching the netminder out of position. However, a defender managed to block the shot. "I thought Delyod was one of the more prominent players on the field from either team," praised Briggs.

The Trojans' other chance came when the Trojans caught the Metro-East netminder out of goal. But the subsequent shot was headed away from the goal line by an alert Metro-East player.

"Those were two great opportunities," said Briggs. "Plus we had other opportunities where we just didn't get the foot on the ball."

DEFEAT notwithstanding, Briggs was proud of the effort, and hopeful about next season.

"It was a drench," said Briggs. "Water was four to five inches deep in some parts of the field. It was an easy day to lose. Even in defeat, I was happy with the team's effort. There was not one kid on the field who quit, not one of them."

Besides Glasper, the Trojans also return for next year such hopefuls as Terrence Hicks, Kenny Ingram, James Isaac, Sean Mosby, and Clarence Williams.

"We've got a pretty good group coming back," said Briggs.

As for Metro-East, it deserves its chance as David. "They earned their goals. They played well. I hope they do well against Granite," said Briggs.

On Friday Night Uteley is Tri-City's winner

By JOE SENTER
for the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Tom Uteley, Don Baker and Jim Maly were the Big Feature winners, Friday night in the Miller Classic Gateway Dirt Nationals at Tri-City Speedway.

The race has been postponed for three weeks due to heavy rains, but finally got off with a bang as Uteley, driving a Firebird, came home the winner of the $1,000 first place money.

Uteley, from Ferguson, Mo., started on the front row outside of Mike Hammerle of St. Charles, Mo.

and took the lead on the first lap, only to lose it to Ed Dixon, who was driving a 1964 Plymouth Arrow.

Dixon led for two laps when Hammerle outgunned him on the back straight-away for the lead. Dixon lost his mount in turn #3, going out into the infield and into the large body of water. Dixon was not hurt in the spinout, but sat out the rest of the night drying out.

Uteley, who had been penalized for working on his car on the track, had to restart the race in the rear, but worked his way back up behind Hammerle, before he passed him, and went on to the checker flag and the 30-lap first annual Modified Nationals win.

Modifieds
Bo Smith, the 1984 season champion of the modifieds, started in fifth place and had worked himself up to second, when he ran off the pace with mechanical problems. But Smith managed to recover and at the checker flag he got back up to finish second.

Hammerle managed to finish third, Dennis Smith from Sumnerfield fourth, Bobby Regot of St. Charles fifth, and C. C. Corbin of Cottage Hills sixth.

Hammerle won the trophy dash, followed by Uteley and Dixon. Uteley and Dixon won the heat race.

Sportsmen and Street Stocks
Don Baker of Rosewood Heights, driving a Buick Riviera, did the big job in the Sportsmen's Class Cars as he became the $500 feature winner. Baker did a fine job broadsiding his #68 Riviera into the turns as he was chased by some of the best sportsmen's race cars in the Midwest.

Following him at the finish line was Bob Stanton of Godfrey in a Camaro, Jake Seels of Brighton, in a Mustang third, Ron Sensel fourth, Steve Quertemouse of Cottage Hills, Ill. fifth and Lou Fritz of O'Fallon sixth.

Bob Stanton took the first heat race and the trophy dash as Don Baker took the other heat.

Jim Maly of Caseyville, Ill. won the street stock feature event driving a Monte Carlo, while George Carroll of Alton was second and Jim Smith of Herculaneum, Mo., third. Rich Styk of Cedar Hill, Mo. was fourth. Carroll won the trophy dash with the heat races going to Stehly and Smith.

Track owner Elvis Doolin and promoter Bob Geaschel announced there would be a Winged Outlaw Sprint Car race at the Speedway this Saturday, Oct. 27th, with an open competition rules. This will be the final race of the season for the Speedway.

hero. He didn't mind that Graves caught the TD pass. He knew what he had contributed to the drive, and that was enough for him.

"We wanted this one real bad," Keeling said. "We did a lot more north-south running this game, and not the east-west running like we have before," he said referring to working the ball upfield.

"WE HAD to keep the ball long enough to score or give Ryan (Weeks) a shot. The thing that really matters is that we won. We won our Homecoming."

As for Weeks, well, he was a winner either way. He didn't get his chance to "save the game" for the Warriors, but he was glad that it turned out the way it did.

"I told coach that I could do it, although I was getting pretty nervous. I would've liked to kick the field goal, but I'm really glad things turned out the way they did. It's really a strange feeling knowing that the outcome of the game may depend on you," Weeks said.

BENED 18-12 with less than a minute and a half left in the game, Cahokia came out doing something it doesn't normally do, it passed. Hill faked back to pass and threw a strike, right to Graves. The Warrior defensive back returned the ball from the 26 yard line to the nine.

It took just one play for the Warriors to secure the win. On first and goal from the nine, Tatum weaved his way through Cahokia defenders for the touchdown. 24-12. Weeks PAT was veered just wide.

By then, Memorial Stadium was berserk.

CAHOKIA, frustrated and dazed by the sudden turn of events, tried the pass on its first possession after the kickoff. It was also their last.

Hill attempted a screen pass over the middle. But when Cahokia's linemen allowed the Warrior line to sift through, Luffman knew what was coming.

"I knew as soon as they let us through it would be a screen. So, I stayed at home and picked up the interception. There's no way I was going to let it get away from me."

After the game when the athletes were celebrating in the locker room and the gym, Yates sat silent in his office, almost reverent.

"THIS IS a great win for our kids, especially our seniors," Yates said. "There were a lot of kids who contributed to this victory tonight, but the key play was Keeling's reception over the middle. That put it all together. Take that away and we're out of it."

The victory improved Granite City's record to 2-5, while Cahokia fell to the same record. This Friday, the Warriors travel to Allon to take on the Redbirds. Action begins at 8 p.m.

got to the middle of the stage and I threw a kiss. Like Dinah Shore. I don't know why I did that. I was so happy. My class liked me enough to nominate me. Then I was named their Homecoming Queen. I thought about how lucky, how fortunate I really was. I was so happy.

"When I threw a kiss, Mr. King, about had a heart attack," said Carolyn. "I don't know why I did that. I was just so happy, so excited."

Ironically, perhaps, Carolyn never met her future husband while the two were in high school. But she did know of him. Yates was a key figure for the Warrior football team.

YATES was a co-captain and a major force from the tight end and defensive end positions. A broken hand kept him from playing the first three weeks of his senior year. As it was, he was still named to the All-Southwestern Conference second team.

As a sophomore, Ron received the coveted "Chris Marcovsky Award" for the school's best underclassman football player.

"I knew who he was," says Carolyn. "Ron Yates was supposed to be good on the football field. I didn't have any idea who he was on the football field. I had a couple of friends who liked him, though. He was a good football player."

IT WAS about four years later when their paths did cross. Carolyn attended a basketball game at Grigsby Junior High School where Ron was the head basketball coach. She liked what she saw in Ron. With the help of a mutual friend, Cheryl Cox Crawford, a meeting was arranged.

The couple will celebrate their 15th wedding anniversary on Nov. 22. They have two children, Darryn, 13, and Damon, 11.

While Ron plotted strategy during halftime of Friday's game, Carolyn talked what being head football coach means to her husband.

"HE LOVES it," said Carolyn. "I think that's something he's always wanted. It's always been in the back of his mind. He set a goal. He wanted to be a head football coach."

Ron, for his part, shrugged off the sentiment of Friday's Homecoming - and what it represented.

"I'm just a basic guy," he said. "Why, Ron even teases his wife for keeping her Homecoming Queen crown and his football pictures."

"I'm not a romanticist, or an idealist," said Ron. "I don't get into that stuff too much."

IT WAS just happy for the seniors," said Ron. "That's the main thing. This is a big victory for them, and for our program."

There would be no special celebration that night, he said. "That was alright with Carolyn, though."

"He's a heckuva man," she said. "I love him and respect him."

She tells the story about how much she liked to dance when she first dated Ron. Problem was, he didn't dance that well and didn't care that much for it. But...

He took dancing lessons," said Carolyn. "I'll tell you, he can cut a rug now."

A Class C campground with 20 camping sites will remain open during the renovation, Tuetli said.

Class B camping sites are accessible to vehicles and have either electrical hook-ups or showers.

Council hears objections to truck tarpaulin ordinance

Asking that his trucking company be given a second chance, Harold Fults, owner of J. C. Hauling, asked Granite City aldermen last week, to reconsider their thinking on a pending ordinance which would require trucks to place tarpaulins over all loose cargo.

Fults was one of three persons who spoke at the public hearing concerning the ordinance which took place before the regular council meeting. No action was taken on the ordinance.

The ordinance was requested by Fifth Ward Aldermen Jake Varadian and Lloyd Bailey, who both complained of truck spillage in their ward. The aldermen have been lobbying for stricter enforcement of truck load limits and have asked the police department to assist them by issuing warnings to the various trucking firms in the city.

The aldermen were not happy with the response to the warnings, so an ordinance requiring the placement of tarpaulins on cargos such as gravel, chat, dirt, grain, slag and other loose cargo was drawn up.

Fults contended that most of the spillage experienced in the city is not from trucks losing the tops of their loads, but said the spillage results when deposits caught on the tires and the sides of the trucks fall off. "The cargo is not spilling off the top—it's spilling off the frame of the trucks," he said.

He said that when these types of spillages occur, his company has cleaned "every pound of it up." He agreed that when these accidents occur, his drivers should be ticketed.

"I'm not saying that nothing should be done about the situation, but I want you to know that we aren't spilling cargo on purpose," he said. "When you leave the house in the morning, you don't leave knowing or wanting to get into an accident."

Fults said he is not in favor of placing tarpaulins on the loads. "You can't hardly get a man to tarp a truck," he said. "Think of tarping a truck in the wintertime—it's hazardous and the men could slip on the ice."

Fults added that a fall by a man could result in several lawsuits, which might include a lawsuit against the aldermen who passed the law.

"We've cut down on the size of our loads this past week and we even stopped hauling coke for Granite City Steel," he said. "I'm asking for another shot for my trucks."

Alderman Paul Ray Bowler emphasized to Fults, that the ordinance was not drawn up only for his trucking company. "We appreciate your conscientiousness, but we want you to know that it isn't just your company that's causing the problems," he said.

Robert Jarrett of Red's Truck Service, said he sees no need to pass a law requiring the placement of tarpaulins, when there already is a spillage law in the state. "If this law passes, I figure it'll take my men an additional 15 miles just to tarp the load," he said. "With their wages and benefits, this will mean I'll have to charge $15 more a load."

Harry McClure, a resident of East 20th Street, said he feels other vehicles besides trucks, should be covered in the ordinance. McClure said that the trucks and trailers that are used by Granite City Steel, have had spillage problems also. "I think there's a real danger there," he said. "I've blown out two tires by driving over spillage from the truck trucks."

After public comment was received, City Attorney John Papa told council members that he has been in contact with a lawyer for the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC). "It was his opinion that if we pass this ordinance, we would be interfering with state law and it would be an abrogation of our home rule authority," he said.

Papa said that the size, weight and loads of trucks already are regulated by state law. "His position (the ICC lawyer) is that this ordinance is a form of regulating," he said.

INDECENCY ALLEGED

Ronald LaCicero, 26, of 925 Washington Ave., Madison, was charged with public indecency this month after an alleged incident occurring in the 2500 block of Washington Avenue was reported by a Granite City woman. LaCicero was released upon posting a $912 cash bond.

said.

Papa further related that the state law prohibits spillage on any highway (street). The fine for such spillage is also set by the state.

Bowler said he does not feel the proposed law is regulating the truck's load, it is regulating what is thrown out of the truck. "It's similar to our litter law," he said.

Alderman Everett Morlen said he is not in favor of the ordinance. "We're smothering the manufacturers before they can even come into town," he said. "I'm looking for making jobs, not taking them away."

Varadian suggested that copies of the ordinance be placed in each alderman's mailbox for their review. Action on the ordinance may be taken at the next council meeting.

WARRANT ALLEGES BATTERY
Elvis C. Eason, 27, of 2811 Denver St. was arrested at 5:30 p.m. Thursday on a warrant alleging Oct. 15 battery of Rhonda Eason. He was freed on $302 cash bail.

LEAVES ROAD, HITS AUTO
Larry D. Howland, 36, of 2337 Lincoln Ave. was arrested for failing to reduce speed to avoid a collision at 3:05 p.m. Thursday. His westbound auto left the roadway for about 100 yards and then returned to the street, hitting the rear of the parked car of Marjorie Margrave, 2307 Lincoln, at the latter address. He told an officer he apparently "blacked out" and had no recollection of the crash. Howland suffered slight injuries.

Cloverview Garden Club views slide show

Members of the Cloverview Garden Club viewed a slide show entitled "Beauty is made" at the home of Linda Irwin, 2801 Madison Ave., during one of the club's dessert luncheons. Mrs. Irwin delivered a commentary on the slides.

After the presentation, a business session was conducted by Mrs. B.C. O'Neill, president. The club collect was read by Louise Sedlack.

Club members were informed that a board meeting of the District V, Garden Club of Illinois, was held at the Cottonwood Mall, Edwardsville. An annual meeting was also made that the President's Council Day at St. John's United Church of Christ, Mascoutah, Ill., will be held on Thursday, Oct. 25. The Mascoutah Garden Club will act as hostess. This is a day honoring all club presidents and all past directors in District V. Registration begins at 10 a.m. and guests are welcome.

Artistic arrangements and horticulture exhibits will be judged at the event. The program, "Put a Little Spice in your Life" by Joanne and Loren Schmebach of Marissa, will discuss herbs and their uses in food and as decoration.

After the business meeting, club members visited Shirl K Floral Designs at 2701 Pontoon Road, which is owned by Shirley Ribort. Members viewed many handcrafted objects and each member was presented with a net sachet favor.

Mrs. Ribort told members how to make potpourri and explained that the word potpourri is a French term meaning a mixture of fragrant flowers, herbs and spices, that are sometimes used in a bride's bouquet.

Fragrant oils produced in the various parts of many herbs are used to bring out the full aroma of potpourri mixtures. Fixative, a perfume's term, refers to substances added to a perfume or potpourri blend to absorb and preserve the delicate fragrances. A sachet is a small bag filled with herbs and spices to scent clothing, she explained.

Other attending the meeting were: Mrs. Clarence Etheridge; Mrs. Charles Gaudin; Mrs. George Knapp; Mrs. Lawrence Melvin; Mrs. Lester Rhine, and Mrs. Ray Williamson.

Mrs. Etheridge, 15 Terrace Lane, will be hostess to the club at the November meeting.

Preceptor Beta Gamma sorority plans party

Plans for a Halloween party were finalized at the regular meeting of the Preceptor Beta Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority in the home of Linda Koenig.

Social Chairman Betty Beck, said the party will be held in the home of Carol Carthey today.

Barbara Hente, service chairman, noted that the group is again collecting old eyeglasses for the "Eyes for the Blind" program.

Marilyn Lumpkins and Carolyn Walsh discussed recent rushing information and the upcoming guest night.

"Women in Politics" was the program presented by Linda Koenig. According to Mrs. Koenig, the first important impact women had when before the Revolutionary War, when they boycotted British Tea. The focus of the program was the first woman presidential candidate, Victoria Woodhull, who ran for the Equal Right Party in the 1872 election.

Mrs. Woodhull, a clairvoyant, was a controversial figure, who spoke out on many social reforms ahead of her time. She was active with Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton in the women's suffrage movement.

Mrs. Woodhull and her sister, Tennessee Clafin, were the first women to establish a successful brokerage firm on Wall Street and lived their later years in England. They were widely known for their philanthropy and acceptance in high British circles.

Missing art work sought

A work of art by Alan Trebing, a 19-year-old Madison High School student, is missing from the exhibit assembled for the Very Special Arts Festival at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Working under his art teacher, Terry Beer, Trebing spent a year to produce the piece, a 3' x 4' black and white silhouette of the rock musical group Van Halen.

THE DISPLAY for the exhibit was assembled late last week. On Monday morning, a member of the university staff observed that the space reserved for the work was empty. University police were notified, and the matter is under investigation.

"It's important that everyone understand that we are primarily interested in getting the piece back," Diane Svoca, director of the festival, said. "If it is returned, there will be no questions asked. This is a work of art of deep importance to the young man who created it, and it will have a special meaning to anyone who gets the chance to see it. The public has a right to enjoy and be inspired by this work of art."

Anyone with information as to the whereabouts of the work, or anyone who can secure its return may contact Diane Svoca in Building II, Room 1110. She may be reached by telephone at 1-692-2057.

Prof. Shaheen discusses Arab image at colloquium

Jack C. Shaheen, professor of mass communications at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, will be the guest speaker at a colloquium, Wednesday, Oct. 24.

Sponsored by the graduate school and the department of mass communications, and colloquium is scheduled in the Maple Room of the University Center.

PROF. SHAHEEN will discuss the image of Arabs on U.S. television. The presentation will be based on his books, "The TV Arab," recently published by Popular Press. A question and answer period will follow the lecture.

"The TV Arab" examines the way Arabs are portrayed on U.S. television, contending that "billionaires, bombers and belly dancers are the only TV images of Arabs that Americans ever see."

In gathering data for his book, Shaheen conducted extensive interviews with television executives. His findings suggest that "they permit Arab stereotypes because they have run out of other villians. Hollywood films preserve traditional stereotypes and television follows Hollywood's lead."

Shaheen received grants from

Mobil Oil Corporation, the Middle East Peace Foundation and the American/Arab Chamber of Commerce to conduct research for the book. In writing the book, Shaheen said he hoped to create a balanced image of people of the Arab countries.

IN 1974, SHAHEEN taught at the American University in Beirut, Lebanon, as a Fulbright Scholar. While he was in that country, the SIUE professor also worked with educational and commercial television specialists. Shaheen was the recipient of another Fulbright-Hays grant in 1981 to teach communications at the University of Jordan.

A member of the SIUE faculty since 1969, Shaheen has also worked as a broadcast and print journalist. He has presented papers and lectures on an international level, and has worked on research projects ranging from Jacques Cousteau documentaries to nuclear war films. Shaheen is currently conducting research in the areas of Third World media systems and the images of ethnic groups and minorities in Western media.

The Colloquium is free and the public is encouraged to attend.

Red Cross needs volunteer drivers

The Tri-City Chapter of the American Red Cross has a great need for volunteer drivers for the Transportation Program. The agency is losing some drivers due to their moving away from the local area, a spokesman said.

Drivers are retired volunteers who transport ill or disabled patients who are without transportation. Thirty to 40 patients per month are driven to the doctor's office or hospital as necessary. Many are disabled and must be helped with wheelchairs or other support.

This program started in 1976 and has been regarded as most necessary, because there is no alternative for these unfortunate patients, the spokesman said. Anyone who is interested in being a driver or would like more information may call 452-7184.

Ladies Coterie plans November silent auction

The Ladies Coterie recently met at the First Presbyterian Church with Virginia John, hostess, serving a dejeuner luncheon to the 20 attending members.

It was announced that the November meeting will be a silent auction, with Marie Gordon as hostess.

Wilma Eddington called the meeting to order, and Harriet Horn introduced the program for the meeting. Nancy Barnes played the guitar and sang three selections: "City of New Orleans," "A Daisy Day" and "I Love You So."

Ella Wade led in the club collection and the Pledge of Allegiance. Georgia Boettger closed the meeting with the Lord's Prayer.

Others attending the meeting were Ethel Beeler, Mary Bilbrey, Ida Caries, Bernadine Cooley, Vi Edwards, Arline Fox, Ben Henley, Donna Kagy, Bess Louis, Mildred Meek, Gladys Page, Loretta Reiske, Helen Stoeber, Lida Thies and Mary Werner.

A cake was presented, along with cards and gifts. Others attending the luncheon were Lela Torrence, Emma Elmore, Evelyn Thompson, Louise Kovar, Doris Wood, Myrtle Poole, Evelyn Hamilton, Hazel Lambert, Mildred Fielding and Dee Onk.

Chouteau Township Halloween party

Michael Johnson, Chouteau Township tax collector, has announced that plans are being made for the annual Chouteau Township Halloween Party.

The party will be held on Saturday, Oct. 27, from 4 to 7 p.m., for children residing in Chouteau Township.

Johnson said that all children through the sixth grade level should wear costumes, since there will be cash prizes awarded for the best-dressed trick-or-treater.

The names of the winners of the poster contest will also be announced at the party.

Hot dogs, soft drinks, a secret witches brew and treat bags will be served to the children in attendance.

Johnson emphasized the party is free and is encouraging the children of Chouteau Township to join the fun. The event will be conducted at the Chouteau Township Hall, located at 897 N. Thorngate Drive, Mitchell, behind the Midwest Motel.

Jr. high football

high school immensely. Most of the other junior highs have such programs."

Smith added that there are "a couple" of former head football coaches at the junior high school now.

AS FOR the non-school football programs for boys of junior high school age, Smith says, "The Pee Wee (football program) helps the smaller kids because of the weight limit. We get a lot of kids in Pee Wee, but they're usually too small for the front line."

That means, he continued, that he has approximately one month to train some freshmen football players before the first game. "And you can really tell against teams like Dupu, where they start younger."

Five junior high school football teams currently participate in the Madison County Junior High School Athletic Conference: Grigsby and Coolidge junior high schools in Granite City, Edwardsville, Collinsville and Roxana.

THE SUBJECT of football surfaced earlier during the board meeting when the board was discussing the purchase of uniforms for the high school pon pon squad.

The board agreed to purchase 18 uniforms for the squad. The uniforms are to be owned by the school and returned by squad members at the end of each school year. The board also agreed that the squad could donate funds toward the purchase of the uniforms.

Dohnal questioned the fact that the pon pon squad doesn't perform during football games. Several board members indicated that they would "appreciate" the squad performing during the football games.

IN OTHER business, the school board approved a request from the city of Madison asking that the school district give the city 180 feet of its 10-inch sewer main and the first manhole on Farish Street between Milan and McCasland avenues.

The city recently annexed seven homes on Rhodes Street adjacent to the Middle School property. In a letter to the board, Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk said in return for the sewer main, the city would assume all maintenance responsibilities for the section of main.

The city also requested an easement to construct and maintain a six-inch sewer line to serve the homes.

THE BOARD agreed to the request, with the stipulation that the city not overload the sewer main.

A letter from Harold E. Briggs, senior superintendent of schools, informed the board that Briggs' office is entering into a service geared toward locating missing children.

He asked that the Madison schools support the service by distributing and posting photos and information of missing children from Illinois and surrounding states. The information would be sent monthly to the school district by Briggs' office.

The board agreed to participate in the program.

—Rev. Showers—

date Nov. 11, 1918, when he came in from running about 15 miles in freezing weather only to be sent back out again.

IN AN interview six years ago, he related the message he'd memorized on the date: "Keep your heads low. Don't fire except in self-defense and don't fire at all after 11 a.m." It was the end of World War I.

Rev. Showers was serving in Gen. John J. Pershing's regiment at the end of World War I and marched with the regiment in victory parades in Paris, London, Washington, D.C., and New York City.

While pastor of Second Baptist Church, Rev. Showers helped to start five new churches in the area. Since retiring, he frequently held mini-services at nursing homes and conducted funerals at the request of many families.

REV. SHOWERS was in the ministry for 60 years. He was a member of Calvary Baptist Church and the Veterans of World War I, Baracks 34.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. tomorrow. Details and a list of survivors appear in today's obituary column.

Zoning hearings set

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will conduct three on-site public zoning hearings in Quad-City area townships Wednesday.

At 9 a.m. Wednesday, the board will meet on Collinsville Avenue in the Cloverleaf Addition, where Verne Barnett and Darrell Gail are requesting a special use permit to operate a heating and cooling business, along with commercial refrigeration in an existing business.

At 9:10 a.m. Wednesday, at the same location, the board will consider a request from the same two for a variance in order to have a pole barn in the R-4 single-family residential district of Nameoki Township.

The third hearing will begin at 9:40 a.m. Wednesday at 4123 Division St., Lot 8, in the Hartline Division of Nameoki Township, where Fred Hartline and Nita and Brandi Barton are requesting a special use permit to sell an existing mobile home and to continue the use of it on the lot for the residence of the Bartons for at least five years.

BATTERY IS TAKEN

Georgia Foster of 114 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, told police late last week that a battery was stolen from her car.

of the United Way, closed the luncheon with a personal prayer. She said "the goal means a better life for many people," and that the "rainbow in the United Way symbol stands for the hope made possible by this United Way campaign."

SHE CLOSED the prayer by saying enthusiastically "We're going to make it!"

Nameoki seeks candidates for vacant trustee's post

Nameoki Township residents interested in applying for a vacant position on the town board of trustees are being asked to bring letters of application to tonight's meeting of the board, according to Mrs. Helen Hawkins, a trustee.

"We want to see that everyone who wants to be considered for the post is considered," she said.

The board will meet at 7 o'clock tonight at the township hall, 4250 Highway 162.

A vacancy was created when trustee W. Lee Adams resigned his post to be appointed highway commissioner for the township. The former highway commissioner, Frank Mehele, was ousted by a court order after he was convicted of official misconduct.

Persons believed under consideration for the trustee vacancy include Ken Davis, Bob Brave, Norman Hall and Del Whitsell.

ANOTHER LIFE

Those pointed ears will shine again

By Alan L. Gansberg

HOLLYWOOD — Trekkies may now open the champagne bottles. It is official. There will be a "Star Trek III," this one subtitled "The Search for Spock," and LEONARD NIMOY will not only return in the role that made him famous — the Vulcan Mr. Spock — but will direct the feature as well.

In fact, the backstage story is that Nimoy would not have it any other way, insisting on the right to direct as a part of his return. He's now been handed a $16 million budget and told to get going.

WILLIAM SHATNER will, of course, return as Captain Kirk, but to show his loyalty — and that of Nimoy, who has directed episodes of Shatner's "T.J. Hooker" series — many of the "Trek" tech crew will be from the "Hooker" roster.

For publicity purposes, Nimoy will not confirm he'll actually appear as Spock. But there will be no suspense when the lights dim in theaters next May. Those pointed ears will shine again.

At the same time GENE HACKMAN is more active than he has been in years. He has finished work on "Misunderstood," a feature in which he stars with HENRY THOMAS of "E.T." fame, and he has

"Under Fire" and "Eureka" ready to come out.

But the Hackman picture that will get the most press, if nothing else, is "Uncommon Valor," the tentative title for the film he is shooting right now — the story of an ex-colonel in the Marines who risks his life to try to find the American soldiers reported missing in action in Vietnam. ROBERT STACK also stars.

Also on the film scene, RICHARD ATTENBOROUGH is hoping the "Gandhi" feature he produced and directed — and which was twice honored with an Academy Award as well — will have its day in the Soviet Union and the People's Republic of China.

PERSIS KHAMBATTA celebrated the finish of filming "Warriors of the Lost World" in Rome by buying a Los Angeles penthouse. Persis reports that Rome is swinging this season. She spent time with LIZA MINNELLI and ROBERT DE NIRO, who were in Italy (not together) just for fun.

Not satisfied with just adding CHRISTOPHER ATKINS to the cast of "Dallas," the producers also included PRISCILLA PRESLEY in their season plans. The producers are very sensitive to making sure that "Dallas" stays on top of "Dynasty" in the Nielsen ratings.

Much of the community is huzzing about leaks in the story line of the proposed sequel to "Gone with the Wind," which the estate of the late MARGARET MITCHELL — who authored the book — is fighting.

The plot calls for Rhett Butler to reject Scarlett's overtures, and turn to Bell Whatling for comfort. Scarlett marries the governor of Georgia while Ashley goes to live at Tara. Mammy dies, and when Rhett goes to Tara for the funeral, he is shocked to find Ashley there, and again walks away from Scarlett. But, we are told, the screen's most famous couple does reunite.

ROBERT CONRAD will be starring in "Hard Knox," a two-hour NBC movie that will also serve as the pilot for a series in which he would occasionally appear.

The focus is on two old-school military men — co-star is RED WEST — who take over the reins at a crumbling junior military academy. Bob has arranged for much of the filming to take place in his native Chicago.

The deal is not set, but LEE CURRERI of "Fame" fame has offers to write a series of children's books. He's also become more devoted than ever to his music and has offers to score a TV movie.
